GEOGRAPHIC AREAS OF SPECIALIZATION

Southeastern/ Eastern North America
Micronesia
Hawaiian Islands and Polynesia

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Paleoethnobotany, ethnobotany and ethnopharmacology of North America and the Pacific
Medical anthropology
Transformation/commodification of traditional medicinals in commercial contexts
Archaeology of eastern and southeastern North America early plant domestication and landscape change in Eastern North America
Origins of Medicinal Plant Use
Prehistoric human ecology

COURSES TAUGHT/ PREPARED TO TEACH

Introductory Level

Introduction to Anthropology
Biological Anthropology
Cultural Anthropology
Introduction to Archaeology
Anthropological Linguistics
Cultural Ecology
Introduction to Primate Studies
Cultures of North America
Archaeology of SE North America
Art & Cultures of the Pacific

Upper Level/Graduate

Medical Anthropology
Evolutionary Medicine (seminar)
Food, Health and Culture (seminar)
Human Osteology/Paleopathology
Paleoethnobotany (lecture, field, lab)
Ethnobotany (lecture, field, lab)
Ethnobotany + Florida Ethnobotany (Spring into Summer Course)
Anthropological Theory

In addition to the above anthropology courses, I have 5 years' experience in designing and teach a Freshman seminar class in the liberal arts (Western Heritage in Global Context). Course includes a year-long interdisciplinary curriculum focused on the foundations of Western history, art, philosophy and science, with emphasis on development and assessment of critical thinking, public speaking and college-level research and composition skills). My particular focus was with international students.

LANGUAGE SKILLS: Reading, writing, and some speaking ability in Russian, Hawaiian, German and Turkish.
