PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE:

Administration

2009-2011 Director, Office of Community Engagement
University of South Florida

University-wide office designed to promote community-based research, service learning, and effective partnerships between the University and local community. Administrative tasks involved establishing and staffing the newly created office, developing databases and work groups, a small grants program, and methods of encouraging and documenting service learning courses. We also applied for and received Carnegie status as an engaged university.

1998 – 2003 Graduate Director; MA & PhD Programs in Applied
Anthropology; University of South Florida

Combined programs total about 110 graduate students. Administrative responsibilities include recruitment, admissions, advising, monitoring, curriculum and scheduling, budgeting and allocating assistantships, internship development, and supervision of program assistant.

1991 – 1997 Chair, Dept. of Anthropology; University of South Florida

The Department of Anthropology at USF offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees, with 19 tenured or tenure track faculty. The chair has responsibility for fiscal oversight, personnel, and facilities, as well as leadership in curricular policy, academic values, and pursuit of shared mission and goals.

Faculty Positions
