

CAS Promotion and Tenure Committee Fall 2018 Report (Fred Pearce)

- a. The College of Arts and Science Tenure and Promotion Committee is comprised of nine members representing the CAS schools of humanities, natural sciences and mathematics, and social sciences.
- b. The committee convened on October 29 to begin the process of reviewing a total to 32 cases (23 tenure and promotion cases; eight promotion cases; and one tenure case).
- c. The committee has met twice, with one additional meeting scheduled. The committee fully expects to conclude its business by the close of business on December 3, 2018.
- d. Various committee members have noted that the new Archivum system is working well and should streamline the tenure and promotion application process.
