Dorothy Schroeder

Dorothy Schroeder has worked in Hillsborough County, Florida, for 27 years. During this time, she has taught almost every subject in math from grade 6 through AP Calculus BC, as well as teaching with Hillsborough Community College as an adjunct professor. Dorothy has served as an instructional leader during her time as a department head and math coach for the past 20 years. This leadership extends to the district level as she performs curriculum development and design. Outside of the district, she has been a National SpringBoard trainer; has edited Florida Virtual School courses; has reviewed Geometry EOC test items for the Florida Department of Education; and is currently a part of the PreAP National Faculty. Dorothy's passion for teaching has been recognized in part through the Edyth May Sliffe Award for Distinguished Mathematics Teaching in Middle School and being a Robert Noyce Master Teacher Fellow. She graduated with a B.S. in Mathematics and a minor in Mathematical Programming from the University of Tampa and later got her M.A. in Math Education from the University of South Florida.
